

Features

Create an active and dynamic workplace with the Arise Deskulator. Designed to sit on top of your existing desk, that can easily be implemented into any office space, with no complicated installation.

With gas-spring height adjusters, you can easily change your position from seated to standing, throughout the day to immediately relieve pressure on your lower back. The steel, scissor structure is built to last with safety in mind. The two activation paddles allows height adjustments to be made whilst avoiding cramping injuries.

Whilst being superior in its functionality, the slim, modern design offers a sophisticated look to your workplace.
